NOTICE TO MARINERS.

BAY OF BENGAL—BRITISH BURMA—COAST OF ARAKAN.

Light-house on Oyster Island at the entrance to the Port of Akyab.

A LIGHT-HOUSE has been constructed of wood and erected on the centre of Oyster Island in latitude 20° 12′ N., longitude 92° 33′ E.

This island is very low and of small area, with a little jungle grass growing on its summit, and is visible five to six miles.

Its position is 10 to 11 miles off shore and is surrounded with danger, especially off its S. E. end, where shoal water extends for a distance of some three miles. It lies 85 miles W. ½ N. magnetic from the Oyster reef, on which the late light-boat stood before it was washed away in the cyclone of May 1881 (vide notification dated the 23rd May 1881).

Oyster Island light-house is 75 feet above high-water level; a fixed dioptric white light of the fifth order is shown from its top, which is visible in clear weather from a height of 20 feet about 10 miles distant.

Vessels approaching from the south and westward should not come under 5 fathoms water; and great care and attention must be observed when making the light in thick, heavy weather owing to the weak order of the light shown, which must be fully borne in mind, also the great danger of oyster reef. Masters of vessels should, therefore, make certain of their position before standing in towards the island and then, with the lead going, not shoal into less than 20 fathoms of water, unless the light or light-house is sighted.

A blue light is exhibited every half-hour from 7 p.m. to 5 a.m., from a staging 24 feet above high-water mark. Natives alone are in charge, so the exact time must not be depended upon.

Superintendent of Light-houses.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 14.

WITH the settlement of the Afghan complication, business has assumed a more confident tone; Government Paper has recovered 2½ per cent. and other securities in proportion. The effect on the ordinary trade of the port, however, has been by no means what was anticipated. Seeds and Wheat are in less request, but Cotton has undergone little, if any, improvement and imports are as slack as ever. Money is easier than it was owing to large imports of Silver and Gold, and Exchange for the same reason has declined ¼d. per rupee. Freights are quiet but pretty steady, at 27s. 6d. to 28s. 9d. per ton for steamers, as, notwithstanding the limited extent of new business, shipments of produce under previous contracts are heavy, and the earnings of the G. I. P. Railway for the week are the largest on record.

MONEY.—The Bank of Bombay's official rates of discount remain unaltered, the minimum for loans on Government Paper being still 10 per cent., but the general position of the market is decidedly easier, and accommodation which was not obtainable a week ago under 12 per cent. could now be had at 10. A considerable portion of this improvement is attributable no doubt to the confidence engendered by the settlement of political matters, but the main influence towards ease is unquestionably the rapid influx of the precious metals, attracted by the movements in exchange. During the past ten days the imports of Gold have been 25½ lakhs and of Silver 52½ lakhs. There are in addition further large supplies on the way, so that even with a more active export business than is now going forward the point of extreme pressure may be considered as past. Rates of discount may be supported at about their present level for some weeks yet, possibly on into July if speculation in shares is developed at all, but it is not likely that we can have a repetition of the squeeze which was experienced a week or ten days ago.

The last weekly return of the Bank of Bombay showed a decrease of about one lakh in the Cash Balance, but this was entirely due to withdrawals from the Government account, the trade demand having decreased by some 17 lakhs on the week. The Bank of Bengal in Calcutta returns an increase of 8 lakhs in their Cash Balance in their statement published to-day.

The Bank of England rate of discount has to-day been reduced to 2½ per cent.

EXCHANGE.—Large receipts of Silver and a corresponding diminution in the demand for money have led to marked weakness in Sterling Exchange, which has declined almost daily during the week. The tendency was already easier the day last mail left, and rates had receded 1-32d. from our Thursday's quotations, say to 1s. 7 5-16d. for demand Bank bills and 1s. 7 19-32d. for 3 months' Credits. On Saturday we weakened a partial 1-32d. for Bank and 1-16d. for private paper, and on Monday owing to weak accounts from Calcutta a fall of 5-32 was established. Tuesday for the same reason witnessed a further decline of 1-32d. in Bank Bills and 1-16d. in Credits, and yesterday the level was practically maintained, but to-day the feeling is again weaker in consequence of the absence of demand shown for Council drafts in London, and a further reduction of 1-32d. must be quoted, ready paper being as follows:—

Bank Bills on demand		1s. 7 1-16d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic Transfer		1s. 7d.	"
Do. 3 months' sight		1s. 7 5-32d.	"
Do. 4	"	1s. 7 9-32d.	"
Do. 6	"	1s. 7 5-16d.	"
Credits 3	"	1s. 7 5-16d. to 1s. 7 11-32d.	"
Do. 4	"	1s. 7 5-32d.	"
Documents 3	"	1s. 7½d.	"
Do. 6	"	1s. 7¾d.	"
France 3	"	204¾	"
Do. 4	"	205	"

The alteration which has taken place in the market, however, is not only in rates, as shown by these quotations, but in the matter of tone. A week ago with the then existing state of money, the immediate future of Sterling Exchange was quite uncertain, and while the majority of people believed in an ultimate decline a temporary rise would have occasioned little surprise. To-day, however, the indications all point to anticipations of a continued fall, and the Banks, though very willing buyers on better terms for forward delivery, show a strong disinclination to sell for more than a mail or two ahead, without simultaneous cover. With the supplies of Silver which they have in sight and other means of finance at their disposal, they evidently see their way to fully meeting the requirements of the remainder of the shipping season, and for later on although Government may not be free sellers of Council drafts, there is no inducement to lay down funds.

Yesterday's biddings in London for Council drafts only resulted in Rs. 10,000 being taken up on Calcutta by mail at 1s. 7 1-16d., and 5 lakhs on Bombay by wire transfer at the same rate. The total amount sold during the week previous was only Rs. 20,000 and the amount advertised for next week is again 10 lakhs. Bar Silver is quoted by Reuter at 49¾d. per oz., and so far no shipments of the metal are advised by this week's mail steamer from London. In all probability, however, we shall have advice of shipments from Venice to-morrow or next day. From China supplies of the metal are likely to fall off now, as with the approach of their export season funds will be wanted.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—The closing quotation for 4 per cents. last Thursday was Rs. 94½, but with all dread of war at an end and easier money the rate has been advanced daily. On Friday the closing rate was Rs. 94½, Saturday Rs. 94¾, Monday Rs. 95 5-16, Tuesday Rs. 95¾, yesterday Rs. 96⅛, and to-day we register Rs. 96⅜ to 11-16. A large business has been done, mostly by legitimate investors, in fact, speculators have found it somewhat difficult to operate as with only a moderate amount of paper on the market from day to day, there have been no bear sellers. Fours-and-a-half have recovered from Rs. 97 to Rs. 99, but owing to the small amount of paper in the market is nominal at that.

SHARES.—A strong upward tendency has pervaded the market throughout the week, but on Tuesday and yesterday it quite amounted to excitement, and a large business has been done both for investment and speculation. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares as having been previously most depressed have naturally experienced the sharpest recovery, and although the mills are by no means doing well at present, buyers feeling more confident as to the future have pushed up values rapidly. The rise has been Rs. 150 in Madras United, Rs. 90 in Queen, Rs. 80 in Colaba, Rs. 75 in National, Rs. 70 in Morarjee Goculdass, Rs. 55 in Hydrabad and Manockjee Petit, Rs. 50 in Alliance, Ripon, Victoria and Western India, Rs. 40 in Framjee Petit, Rs. 35 in Budnaira, Hindustan, Khutao Muckonjee, and Parell, Rs. 30 in Empress and Southern India, Rs. 25 in Coorla, Great Eastern, Oriental, Prince of Wales and Sholapore Rs. 20 in Albert Edward, Bombay United, Central India, Indian Manufacturing and Jewroz Balloo. Connaught Mazagon and Jamas Greaves have improved by Rs. 15 and the only large concerns which do not exhibit an improvement are the Anglo-Indian, Gordon and Dhurrumsey. The latter is not being worked at present and the Gordon it is understood is running at the agents risk. In Press Companies the improvement has not been so important as in Mills, nor is there warrant for a general rise in them as the Cotton Crop is turning out very deficient in every quarter. Still Prince of Wales have advanced Rs. 35, Albert Rs. 30, Akbar and Fort Rs. 25, Apollo Rs. 20, Berar and Bombay Rs. 15, Mofussil and New Indian Rs. 7½ per share. In Banks there is a rise to notice of Rs. 40 in Bank of Bombay to Rs. 750, and Rs. 4 in National to Rs. 95. Amongst Miscellaneous concerns Bombay Burmah Trading have had the greatest improvement being Rs. 225 higher for old, and Rs. 50 for new shares. Treacher & Co., have advanced to Rs. 1,195, and Port Cannings are Rs. 27½ higher on the week. Cooper, Madon & Co., Limited, are quoted at Rs. 120.

IMPORTS.

PIECE-GOODS have unquestionably felt the improvement in the general tone of business to some slight extent. Up-country buyers have operated with a shade more confidence, and from the bazaar the clearances of the week are estimated at about 3,000 packages. Money however although easier is still sufficiently tight to act as a check on any decided improvement, nor under any circumstances could we expect much activity to be developed so close upon the approach of the monsoon. All the indications for the coming season though are favourable, and should the rains open well there can be little doubt, but the dulness of the past year will in some measure be made up by a larger trade in the next. Consumers must have a considerable void to fill up, and the low range of prices now ruling will afford a safe starting point to importers.

Prices in a general way have not undergone any quotable change since last mail left, although there are some exceptions. Grey Drills for instance owing to a temporary scarity are As. 4 per piece higher. Bleached goods are in fair average request, particularly the lighter descriptions of cloth. Dyed and Printed Goods and Turkey Reds are all dull and difficult of sale.

Local made goods meet a somewhat better demand and the heavier makes are 1-16 to ¼ anna per lb. higher.

TWIST.—A decidedly better demand has been experienced for English Yarns at in some cases slightly better rates and a considerable business has been done. Local Yarns are in better request for shipment to China and prices are rather firmer.

METALS.—Copper has taken a turn for the better again lately and we have to note an advance of As. 8 to As. 12 per cent. Yellow Metal is somewhat firmer, but has not shared in the improvement to the same extent. For Iron the tendency is towards higher prices and Bars are quoted Re. 1 per candy up.

COALS.—The market for the article remains very dull, and the business of the week has been insignificant. Sales are reported of a part cargo of Cardiff at Rs. 14½ and Davison's West Hartley at Rs. 14½ per ton alongside.

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—Although the home accounts on the whole have been the reverse of encouraging, and the extent of buying here for export proportionately limited, the fall which has taken place in Sterling Exchange has induced an advance of Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per candy, and at that sellers are very firm. The main source of their firmness of course lies in the small supplies which prevent anything in the shape of speculative bear selling, and the result is that however dull the telegraphic advices may be from home—and they have as a rule been very dull—nothing but ready Cotton has been at all pressed for sale. Of this the stock is small, smaller we should say than it has been at this period of the season during the past fifteen years, Bengals and Oomras being almost exhausted, Broach rapidly drawing to an end and Dholleras with some Ginned Dharwar the only growth affording any choice of selection.

The figures for the week speak for themselves. In the receipts the deficiency has been increased by 15,000 bales again, and the general estimate of the season's shipments is now from 600,000 to 650,000 bales. Nor is this the full extent of the shortness of the crop, for of Westerns there will practically be no supply and the quantity of Surats available for shipment to Europe after providing for the wants of our local mills will be extremely small during the last six months of the year.

The movements of Cotton to date show the following comparisons with the two previous years:—

	1885.	1884.	1883.
Receipts.
For the week	59,770	72,330	68,538
Since 1st January	678,686	1,034,337	1,120,218
Clearances to Great Britain and Continent.
For the week	45,145	32,556	62,460
Since 1st January	4,32,029	7,26,515	8,20,800
Clearances to Calcutta, China, &c.
For the week	2,331	...	...
Since 1st January	32,071	35,576	24,705

The following are to-day's quotations for full-pressed Cotton with the equivalent in Sterling, Cost and Freight to Liverpool, via Canal, without commission:—

		Per Candy.	per lb. Cts. & d.
Omra, Fine	Ready (nominal)..	Rs. 206	= 5 1-16d.

Do. Good	do.	" 200	= 4 15-16d.
Ginned Dharwar Good	do.	" 200	= 4 15-16d.

WHEAT.—Telegraphic advices from home have been the reverse of strong, and supplies here have been very large, but with the fact that exchange has given way and that the bulk of the arrivals are going against previous sales, sellers have been by no means anxious to force business and prices, if anything, are the turn higher on the week. We now quote:—No. 1 White Pessy Rs. 3 12½, No. 1 Club Delhi Rs. 3-9½ to Rs. 3-10, Ahmedabad Rs. 3-8 per cwt.

SEEDS.—Linseed is arriving freely, but the price is well maintained at Rs. 5-10 to Rs. 5-12 per cwt. Rapeseed is dull, nor are supplies large. We quote Yellow Guzerat Rs. 5-12, Yellow Cawnpore Rs. 5-9, Red Cawnpore Rs. 4-13 per cwt. Of Gingelly the arrivals are now insignificant, and prices are nominally unchanged at Rs. 36 toRs. 40 per candy.

The comparative imports of Wheat and Seeds are as follows:—

One of the most valuable of the presents given to the Amir of Afghanistan by the Government of India has just been despatched from Bombay. This consists of the machinery furnished by the Indian Electric Light Co. for the illumination of the Amir's palace at Kabul. The company's brilliant display at the house fitted up for Abdul Rahman at Rawal Pindi was to him one of the wonders of his visit to India. Without skilled workmen the apparatus would, of course, be simply a disappointing encumbrance, but consistent with his declarations on weighty matters, the Amir has preferred to select from his own subjects men to receive the necessary training in mechanics and electric engineering. Three Kabulis have, therefore, been studying the working of the light here for some time past, chiefly at the office of the Bombay Gazette, where the machinery, capable of supplying ten lights, is similar to that forwarded to the Amir's capital. The gramme machine, with the fittings complete, has been sent viâ Peshawar and the Khyber, and the students in electric lighting having completed their education, return with their newly-acquired knowledge for the inauguration, which is to be the occasion of a grand tamasha.

DR. SIDNEY SMITH goes home on six months' leave to-day. Dr. Potter will hold the appointments of surgeon to the coroner and police surgeon and act for him during his absence.

THE Rev. E. S. Hall, M. A., has joined the Bombay Ecclesiastical Establishment as junior Chaplain.

COLONEL J. W. WATSON, President of the Rajasthanik Court, Kattywar, acts as Political Agent, Kolhapore and Southern Mahratta Country, during the absence of Colonel H. N. Reeves.

THE appointment of Captain F. W. Snell to be Assistant to the Political Resident, Aden, at Perim, is gazetted.

MR. A. W. CRAWLEY-BOEVEY, C. S., has been appointed Special Officer for the Settlement of the Talukas of Wanta and Giras in the Baroda territory.

MR. R. H. VINCENT, Superintendent of the B. B. and C. I. Railway Police, has been appointed to be also a Deputy Commissioner of Police in Bombay.

MR. A. H. UNWIN has been appointed Assistant Judge in the Ahmedabad district for the Kaira and Panch Mahals collectorates, Mr. C. E. G. Crawford acting during his absence on the return of Mr. H. F. Anton to duty. Mr. Crawford has also been appointed Joint Judge in the Ahmedabad sessions division.

MR. J. A. BAINES, C. S., has been appointed second Assistant Collector, Dharwar.

MR. MUIR-MACKENZIE having proceeded on furlough, Mr. Balaji Sungadhar Sathe has been appointed Forest Settlement Officer in the Satara district.

MR. C. E. FROST, C. S., Forest Settlement Officer, Nassik, has been allowed privilege leave of absence for three months.

THE revised list of fares for public conveyances in Bombay is published in the Government Gazette. Some discrepancies which were observable in the draft schedule have been corrected in the revised list, and all the rates are now so fair and moderate that no reasonable objection can be taken to them.

FROM the Bombay Presidency season reports for the week just ended it appears that there has been slight rain in parts of twelve districts. Preparations for the kharif crops are in progress in parts of eight districts. The scarcity of fodder continues in four talukas of Belgaum and three of Dharwar, and of drinking water in six talukas of Dharwar and four of Belgaum. Small-pox prevails in parts of thirteen, and cholera, cattle-disease, and fever in parts of ten districts.

It is proposed to form a company of Volunteer Sikhs amongst the West Indians at Calcutta. These men, of whom there are between two and three hundred, are working as stevedores in connection with shipping, and are said to be industrious and respectable. No better material for Volunteers, it is believed, could be found in any town in India.

THE Englishman learns that it is the "firm conviction of Yakub Khan that it would be a fatal error on the part alike of the Amir and the British to give up Penjdeh. He regards it as a place of great strategical importance, the holder of which is virtually in possession of North-Western Afghanistan, and the straight road to India." What degree of importance is to be attached to Yakub Khan's opinion in the matter? And is his opinion free from bias?

THE Sawai Maharaja Ranjor Singh of Ajaigarh, Bundelkund, having placed the resources of his State at the disposal of the Government in the event of a war with Russia, has received the following letter of acknowledgment from the Governor-General's Agent, Sir Lepel Griffin:—"My dear friend,—I am directed by His Excellency the Viceroy of India to convey to you his personal thanks for your loyal offer of assistance, and to inform you that Her Majesty the Queen-Empress has desired His Excellency to convey to you her warm appreciation of your loyalty." The little State of Ajaigarh represents a warlike race which has always been loyal to the British Government. As a mark of the loyalty of this State the ancestor, Raja Bankhat Singh, of the present chief, received a pension of three thousand Gohar Sahi rupees per month, on the British occupation of Bundelkund in 1803 until an adequate territorial provision could be assigned to him. In 1807 he eventually received a sanad from the British Government restoring to him a portion of his possessions, and at last in 1808 the fort of Ajaigarh was made over to him.

A GOOD deal has been said of late in regard to the consideration shown by the Czar to his Central Asian subjects, and the advancement of Aitchanoff to place and power is frequently pointed to as being without parallel in India. The Pioneer, however, points out that success of this kind has its entire counterpart in India, only that instead of holding out inducements here to "flibbusters and spread-eaglers," the great posts of ambition proffered to natives by the English Government are in the Supreme Courts of Justice. "A man like Syed Mummood," says the Pioneer, "when sitting on the bench of the North-West High Court"—and we may add, the Hon. Nanabhai Harridas, in Bombay—"represents to his countrymen a native worthily employed in the higher sphere of maintaining the reign of law and order, while his co-religionist across the Hindu Kush enjoys military rank simply with the mission of harrying the border. How many Syed Mammoods are there in the Russian Turkistan Courts of Appeal? The difference in the character of the posts severally conferred by them, as an honourable incentive to native ambition, is characteristic of the two Governments. We cannot suppose for a moment that our native officers envy Maksud Ali Khan, alias Alikhanoff, his peculiar position in the Russian military service."

THE idea of a caucus has spread to Madras, where a certain number of ratepayers have formed themselves into an association for obtaining the choice, at the forthcoming municipal election, of only members who are to be nominated by them, and who will agree to support their views.

SOME ten years ago Mr. H. E. Stokes, of the Madras Civil Service, brought to the notice of the Trustees of the Madras Civil Fund that there was a sum of about fifty lakhs of rupees due to the fund by the Home Government; though both the Trustees and the Government appear up to that time to have been ignorant of the fact. This large accumulation appears to have arisen in the following manner:—When the fund for the payment of pensions to the widows and children of members of the Madras Civil Service was started, the Home Government, in order to help the scheme, allowed 8 per cent. interest on all deposits. As these deposits have gone on increasing at compound interest for a number of years, the accumulations have amounted to the sum of nearly fifty lakhs. As the Government did not deny its liability altogether, the Trustees suggested that the Government should give to the wives and families of deceased members the full advantage of the fund up to fifty lakhs, according to the actuarial calculation this would increase the pensions of widows from £300 to £450 per annum, whilst it would give to daughters a dowry of £1,000 on marriage, with pensions to both sons and daughters as at present. In discussing this proposal, however, the Government declined to admit its liability for more than thirty-six lakhs, whilst the Trustees still stand out for the full amount. It is considered that the Trustees would do well to accept the amount offered by Government, as the opinion of the law officers of the Government is by no means altogether favourable to the Trustees.

THE Madras papers report a strange circumstance. It appears that while the steamer Arcot was coming down from Calcutta coast ports, she picked up at Gopalpore and Masulipatam Government treasure to the amount of four lakhs and a half. On Monday night the attention of the commander was directed to two steamers, one on each side, who kept their stations for several hours quite close to him. If he slowed they did so also; if he put on a spurt they did the same; and it was impossible to doubt that for some reason they were watching him. On one occasion they communicated with one another, and then took up their stations as before. One of the B. I. S. N. steamers is now coming down to Madras, and private signals were exchanged between her and the Arcot. Soon after this occurrence the two steamers suddenly disappeared, and were not seen afterwards. "The whole proceeding," says the Mail, "bears a curious aspect, for no steamers are expected here from the north, nor have any passed up, except the P. and O. steamer Tasmania and the Sirsa."

THE Bombay and Madras Chambers of Commerce have taken steps to impress upon the Government of India that it would be a hardship to Indian commerce if the Telegraph Convention should result in any modification of the existing regulations as to the maximum number of words permitted to be sent in a code telegram. The Government of India, who were asked to instruct their representative at the Convention to firmly oppose any proposal for reduction in this direction, replied in January that they had not received the proposals to be brought forward at the Conference, but promised that when they arrived, the representations should receive the fullest consideration, as the Government recognised the objections to changes in the regulations affecting code messages being introduced without good cause and without the minutest. The Indian Daily News suggests, that these proposals should be published, and submitted to public discussion before being decided by the Conference.

THE Indian Daily News says:—"We have received several complaints regarding the postal communications to Suakim. Letters from there appear to arrive regularly, but the reverse service has not been so satisfactory. A correspondent wrote by the last mail that he had not received a single letter, though his friends had not missed a mail since the force left Bombay. We are glad to learn, on the authority of the Bombay Gazette, that the postal arrangements are now in full working order. Since the middle of last month the mails have been despatched weekly vid Aden, by a transport service arranged by the Admiralty to work between Suakim and Aden in connection with the P. and O. steamers."

THE death is announced of the Rev. Dr. Kisto Mohun Bannerjee, C.I.E., which occurred at his residence in Calcutta. "The deceased," says the Englishman, "wasseventy-two years of age, and may be said to have retained to the last the intellectual vigour and activity of spirit which distinguished him throughout his long and honourable career. In a very literal sense he was a link between the Bengal of to-day and the Bengal of an almost forgotten past, and for many years he had stood alone as a brilliant representative of the group of keen, intellectual students who gathered round the youthful poet Derozio, in the early days of the Hindu College. . . . For many years past he had been an ordained clergyman of the Church of England, and it would be difficult to praise too highly the unremitting zeal with which he has laboured for the intellectual and material advancement of his countrymen. One of his daughters is Mrs. Wheeler, the well-known Government Inspectress of zenana agencies.

THE Commissioner of Orissa, in consultation with Mr. Hughes, the Superintending Engineer, is considering a scheme for a water-supply for the town of Pooree, and an appeal will shortly be made to the Native Princes of India for funds to carry out the project. "The yearly mortality among pilgrims who visit Juggernath," says a Calcutta paper, "is deplorable; many who have travelled hundreds of miles apparently in health and strength succumb to cholera a few hours after reaching Pooree. Though these seizures may partly be due to the fermented food supplied to the pilgrims, yet disease is aggravated by the filthy water-supply. Virtually the whole of India is interested in any scheme for the sanitary improvement of this town; for there is no part of India which does not yearly send out a band of pilgrims to Juggernath. The construction of the railway will increase the number of pilgrims, and render a good water-supply all the more necessary."

OSCAR WILDE, says "Atlas" in the World, is certainly a very funny fellow. An American publisher sent him a copy of a new magazine, and invited his criticism. Here is an extract from Oscar's opinion:—

"Then, as regards your prose-writers: I like the College Professor best, but the standard is good everywhere; still, if I might say so, a little more care both as regards style and substance should be taken. Rossetti is not living (p. 190), and in mediâ res (p. 192) could not pass even at a fancy ball for in medio tutissimus. That a book 'will be read with interest by the illiterate' (p. 151) is too charming to alter, but that 'no man was more fortunate than Carlyle was in his marriage' is a somewhat too painful paradox (p. 124); still, there is much that is good, and the advice to 'read the daily papers as a method of acquiring judgment and good sense' (p. 183) is an excellent bit of humour on which you must allow me to congratulate the author."

THE visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to Ireland, remarks the Spectator, has already produced some anecdotes worth noting, though perhaps none so funny as that of the young lady who apologised, after the visit of the Duke of Edinburgh to Galway, for her not having answered a letter by the plea that she had been "so knocked about by the royalties, she really did not know where she was." The old woman who exclaimed on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales to the "liberties" of Dublin, "Glory be to God, he's been in Elbow-lane!" (the name is felicitously suggestive of the locality) is worthy of being mentioned, so is the following incident, which is given in the words of a correspondent:—"The Prince and Princess were nearly due, and the streets were packed with people. I took my stand in College-green, holding on tight by a lamp-post. Close beside me, at the edge of the kerbstone, stood a woman bent with age, miserably clad, with snow-white hair. She held a meagre paper of pins and a few boot-laces in her wasted hands. She was the barest figment of the hawker-beggar, whose existence is a constant struggle or compromise with the police. The crowd thrilled with expectation, the Royal cortège came up, without the distracting rapidity that is the London pace for Princes, and, as the carriage for which we were all looking passed my lamp-post, the eyes of the Princess of Wales fell upon the figure of the old woman beside it. A quick look of compassion—the pity that has no disdain in it—passed over the Princess's face, and then a swift, bright smile. The next instant she was gone, and the old woman, down whose wrinkled cheeks tears were stealing stretched out her hands (with the pins and the boot-laces in them) in the attitude of fervent prayer, and said, with passionate earnestness,—'May the Lord lay (leave) the crown on your beautiful head until it's as white as mine, and only take it off to put one of His own in the place iv it!'"

THE OPHTHALMIC HOSPITAL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Dr. Maconachie in his letter to me of the 6th instant, as well as in his letter to the Bombay Gazette of the 12th, states that "when on leave on two different occasions he sent in Dr. Waters's name as his locum tenens;" and he further gives it as a reason that "no honorary surgeon could have his name sent to act in his appointment, as it would be impossible according to the regulations, which lay down that a commissioned officer should act in the absence of the surgeon." Strange that on neither of these two occasions when asking Dr. Prabhakar to take charge of the hospital was anything said by Dr. Maconachie to Dr. Prabhakar about his having sent Dr. Waters's name, or that Dr. Prabhakar was to act under his supervision. Dr. Maconachie admits that he asked the honorary surgeon to carry on his ordinary duties as a matter of courtesy and under Dr. Waters's supervision, but his note to to Dr. Prabhakar to take charge of everything until his return is as unqualified as it is possible to imagine. It is stranger still that on both occasions the Surgeon-General so far disregarded Dr. Maconachie's recommendation as not to appoint either Dr. Waters or any other commissioned officer to act for him. It is against the regulations that any but a commissioned officer should act in the absence of one, the Surgeon-General violated that rule not only once, but twice. Dr. Maconachie must have peculiar ideas of his duties as Ophthalmic Surgeon if he thinks he can ask his assistant as a matter of courtesy to act for him in his absence, when he is perfectly well aware that to do so would be a violation of the regulation on which he himself lays so much stress. I have nowhere stated that a hospital surgeon has to apply to Government each time he wishes his assistant to do any work.—Yours, &c.,

Bombay, May 14. R. N. KHORY.

THE GOCULDAS TEJPAL HOSPITAL.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The reference given by "Medical Journalist" to hospital appointments in London has no bearing whatever on the question of appointments of honorary assistant surgeons for the hospitals of Bombay. His unreserved reiteration, as he calls it, that the appointments of physicians and surgeons (not of honorary assistant surgeons) require, besides the M. D. degree, such high qualifications as the F. R. C. S., M. R. C. P., &c., only makes us regret that the Bombay Government, instead of appointing from service men of such abilities, are content with those only who are in high favour with the head of the Medical Department.

"Medical Journalist" is wrong in supposing that the Government have pronounced the scheme of honorary assistant surgeons a failure. He is not perhaps aware that the memorial of the Medical Union (a society composed of most of the medical practitioners of Bombay), supplied with the representation made by the Municipal Corporation embodying their grounds that the scheme has not failed, is still before Government for their consideration and final disposal. It is true that the Ophthalmic Surgeon has reported unfavourably to Government about the scheme, though on what grounds it is difficult to say, as the report is still kept back from the public. So far as I am aware, during the thirty days that the chief surgeon was sick with gout in May, 1883, the whole of the hospital work was done by Dr. Prabhakar alone, without the supervision of Dr. Waters or any other officer and the note written by Dr. Maconachie to Dr. Prabhakar on 4th June, 1883, to take sole charge of the hospital till his return shows that the sphere of his duties extended beyond "mere assistance in teaching the students to bandage, to test vision, to select spectacles, and to assist the surgeon generally while the students were with him." That Dr. Prabhakar gave clinical instructions to students, and that he had charge of the out-patients' department, also proves beyond doubt what amount of confidence was placed by the chief surgeon in the abilities and fitness of Dr. Prabhakar. In June, 1884 (not October as erroneously stated before), the Ophthalmic Surgeon, when he again absented himself from the hospital, gave charge of everything connected with it to Dr. Prabhakar, on this occasion also without the supervision of Dr. Waters or any other officer. This could not but be the result of the appreciation by Dr. Maconachie of the services rendered by Dr. Prabhakar during his absence on leave on the first occasion, as otherwise it is inconceivable how the sole charge of the institution could be made over for a second time to Dr. Prabhakar. It is suprising to observe what a complete change we wrought in Dr. Maconachie's opinion in a comparatively short time. In November, 1884, whenasked for a report by the Surgeon-General, he reorted that "for many months Dr. Prabhakar stended at 8 a.m. or later, and that he had failedto get him to attend at 7 a.m., as it was essenti that he should attend at that hour, so as to be in attendance at 7 to 8 a.m., going to the surgical ward at 8." In the absence of any record of attendance kept in the hospital, it is difficult to judge how far the charge of want of punctuality against Dr. Prabhakar is true. If he was unpunctual, as alleged by Dr. Maconachie, it would s interesting to know if any complaint was referred by the students, and what steps were taken to render Dr. Prabhakar's attendance more regular. The report about the so-called persistent disobedience of orders, in the face of the fact that Dr. Prabhakar had instructions to take sole charge of the hospitals on two different occasions, within a year's interval between both, shows that the plea of want of punctuality was an afterthought to suit the sudden change in Dr. Maconachie's opinion.—I am, &c.,

The matter being reported to the police, the chest-of-drawers was found lying in a field, about a hundred yards distant, at the back of the premises, forced open, and the clothes strewed about the ground. Rao Bahadoor Babajee Laxmonrao Sawant was called to the chair. The letter of condolence was adopted, and a deputation was appointed to proceed to Baroda and present it to the Gaekwar. The letter expresses the heartfelt grief of those present at the meeting at the death of the Maharani; refers to her "high culture" and "perfect" acquaintance with the Gujarati, Marathi, and English languages; and concludes with some verses on the transitory nature of human existence.

While on a visit lately to the fire-temples in Gujarat, and other places, she distributed upwards of Rs. 8,000 in feeding and clothing the poor and helpless, and in distributing money among them. A grand religious ceremony in memory of the deceased will be performed to-day in connection with the third anniversary of his death.

There were 133 deaths from remittent fever, 19 less than in the previous week, and 29 more than in the same period last year. The deaths from diseases of the nervous system were 46, 9 more than last week. Of these 41, 16, and 9 respectively, as compared with 77, 26, and 16 in the same time last year. Eighteen deaths from cholera were registered last week as compared with 12 in the week previous.

There were no external marks of violence on it. The verdict was that she committed suicide by drowning.—Another inquest was held by the Coroner at the Esplanade, yesterday, on the body of Manockjee Muncherjee, aged about 50 years. Deceased was formerly a coachman. He was paralysed about twenty years ago, and was supported by charity. He was addicted to drink and to the use of opium. Yesterday morning his dead body was found floating in a well at the Esplanade. There were no external marks of violence on it. A verdict of suicide was recorded.

ALLEGED EXTENSIVE JEWELLERY FRAUD IN BOMBAY.

THE case in which Naryandas Mathooradas, a Hindoo jeweller, is charged with criminal breach of trust in respect of Rs. 20,000 worth of jewellery was resumed before Mr. Ryan yesterday.

Mr. Wadia, solicitor, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. Shewshunker defended the accused.

Jewanjee Hormusjee Guzder, who was the only witness examined, said that he knew the accused well, and had always looked upon him as a respectable jeweller. About the 23rd of April last the accused called on the witness at his office, and produced the jewellery now in court. He said that it belonged to a Parsee family, the name of which he refused to divulge, who were in need of money. He offered to deposit the jewellery as security for a loan. The witness declined to advance any money till he had the jewellery valued. The accused accordingly left the articles with him, and promised to call again for an answer. The witness then sent the jewellery to a jeweller named Panalal, who valued it rather under the amount set upon it by the accused. On the 26th the accused called on the witness, and the latter lent him Rs. 2,700 on the pledge of the property. On the first Sunday in May the witness learned from the Rast Goftar that the accused had left Bombay. The fears of the witness were awakened by this unlooked-for incident, and he ordered his solicitors to serve the accused with a notice demanding an immediate release of the bond. On the following day the complainant, her son, and solicitor, and the head of the detectives, called on the witness and identified the property. Witness then took the jewellery to the court, and delivered it over to the magistrate. At this stage the case was adjourned to the 26th inst.

THE CONSERVATIVE RYOT.

THE first number of the Indian Agricultural Gazette contains an instructive account of the efforts of Mr. Ozanne, Director of Agriculture, Bombay, to popularise steam agricultural machinery with the native cultivator. He says:—

I met the machine, a steam thresher, at Niphad on the 11th March. It was already set in position in the stackyard of a ryot named Vithoba, who had a goodly stack of wheat. Steam was got up and the machinery was put into motion. No threshing was done that day as it was late and the working parts required oiling and examination. The confined space in the stackyard presented a difficulty and it may as well be at once admitted that the farmers will have to bring their wheat to the machine and take back the straw to the stackyard, unless this yard is unusually large. This can very easily be done by carting the crop direct to the machine placed in an open spot and pitching the sheaves from the cart to the machine. The empty cart can then collect and carry the straw to the stackyard and another full cart be brought alongside. In the present case, however, the wheat had been stacked before the arrival of the thresher.

On the following morning in the presence of the Collector and other officers, European and native, including all the Mamledars of the Nasik District, the trial began. Very soon Mr. Vithoba was seized with alarm. He expected to see the straw come out softened and crushed as it comes from the native threshing-floor. He declared at once that he was a ruined man, that however good the grain might be he could not afford to buy the straw, the only fodder he had for his cattle. This point was at once considered. It had been foreseen. The long straw came out unbroken, all the awns of the ears were collected with broken straw in the cavings, and the chaff was hard and stiff. I was very ready to agree that it might cause cattle injury to eat the cavings and the chaff, but urged that it would be very easy to soften the fodder by a partial treading. The ingenious ryot was ready with a reply and it was that the cattle cannot tread the straw and soften it without the help of the triturating floor. I did ask if any one had ever tried to tread the straw without the grain. No one had; and Vithoba was pacified by being promised compensation if his opinion proved correct. The trial went on. Vithoba and others inspected the grain as it fell into the various bags. I pointed out how well the diseased and small grains were separated from the good grain. "That is all very well," said Vithoba, "but the good grain cannot weigh as much as the good and bad together, and why should I reduce the amount of my produce?" At the same moment the village grain dealer said "All this is good for me." Vithoba assured that the price obtained for the good clean grain would far more than recoup such loss. With reassurances that this would be a point for arbitration in considering whether, if any, compensation should be given, the trial went on. From time to time further objections were made and met. I can only enumerate these.

1. That the grain must become heated and would therefore not germinate as seed.
2. That the grain was so broken that it would fetch a very low price.
3. That no ryot possesses bags to hold the threshed grain.
4. That the loss of grain going over with the straw cavings and chaff was very great.
5. That grain pits would no longer be useful and the money expended on them would be lost.

Briefly, the answers given were that in many countries wheat is threshed by steam and no injury to the germinating powers ever experienced. Vithoba was advised to put a few grains into a pot and water them, and see how many failed to germinate.

2. That the broken grains were not one in a thousand. The wheat dealer present declared this objection groundless. The final decision may be taken to be the opinion of the Chamber of Commerce who in Committee remarked the "freedom from damage." The brittleness of the hard wheats of this district makes a certain amount of breakage unavoidable. It would be imperceptible with soft wheats, as at Cawnpore. Further stated that the machine went on, the percentage of broken grains became very much less. But the Committee of the Chamber saw a sample in which the percentage was considerably high.

3. The objection as to the inability of the ryot to provide bags is serious to him, who has no cash, but it was urged that he could sell grain and bags together. This apparently foolish objection may cause difficulty, unless the traders take to the innovation. I believe they will, especially if the merchants can insist on the absence of impurities and the temptation to temper with the sample is removed.

4. The test trial showed no grain in chaff or cavings and only 1·2 per cent. in the long straw. This objection has already been met.

5. The best answer to the loss of capital sunk in grain pits was that given by the Reverend Dr. Fairbank, viz., that where he can get his wheat threshed by steam and sent off at once to market, the ryot would be best to sell at once and to keep his wheat away from the contamination of the pits.

These objections were not hard to meet, but they and others perhaps, may be expressed, and in the mind of the cultivator are real and the opposition to the machine became general. Vithoba begged that the machine should be stopped. Once it was stopped to adjust a belt. He asked me in an undertone whether anything had
